If a deposit is required prior to shipping and it has not been paid within a 30-day period, Silvus may have the prepared order moved to our inventory stock to fulfill other orders, forfeiting your promised ship date. Should this action be taken, your order will go back into production once the balance of the payment has been received, thus pushing back the shipment to a further date. This may be circumvented by providing Silvus with a valid reason for the delay and an expected date of payment that falls within an acceptable timeframe deemed by Silvus. Adequate notifications will be provided before this action is implemented. Therefore, it is of upmost importance to notify Silvus if you expect any payment delays as soon as possible. Thank you.
